Tell me I can change
Tell me I want to Tell me I can keep it all straight this time

No wanting you
No secrets and lies
No pulling us out of our well thought out lives

Your power to disturb and slide my resistance out from under my faithful disguise
Tell me it's all in my heart not my head
Tell me you've forgotten everything I've said

If I lose my balance
If I fall to your interest
If we slip off to that dark room and no one knows

Tell me it's all in my head not my heart
Tell me this collision won't take us apart
Tell me it's all in my heart not my head
Tell me you've forgotten everything I've said
