

Malus Caelestis

"Obtuse"

Visit "Obtuse" on MotoLyrics.com

Tempt me, fear me
Let me breathe again
Allow me to be the one you seek
I can feel your eyes, they call upon me

I'll be with you to the very end
Let me spread my wings and find what lies ahead
I've stayed with you since the very start
But this compromise we've forged is tearing us apart

My friend my love, opinions change
You are not the same and nor am I
Yet I shall always wait for opportunity
I am Icarus, you are the Sun

My limbs, they burn as my eyes meet yours
Between the lines I read, and you are no savior
Following suite, my heart, it wrenches
Embrace my ignorance, we shall be one

In a world like this, life is spread thin
I'm a vagabond, you are my compass
Like a moth, I feed your fire
Look into the skies, for I am what you need

I'll be with you to the very end
Let me spread my wings and find what lies ahead
I've stayed with you since the very start
But this compromise we've forged is tearing us apart.

Visit Malus Caelestis page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.