Once more, come on, lets do it again!
Once more, come on, we can both pretend!
We can stay up all night and be different people
Youll still be sick, but I could heal you

When Jesus comes to take your hand
Im not sure I can understand

Every time I see ya smile
I lose myself every once in a while
Is it something in you or something in me
That helps me escape reality

Once more, come on, just give me a chance
To set things right and make it last
If I werent me, and you werent you
Theres so many things we both could do

When Jesus comes to take your hand
Im not sure I can understand

Every time I see ya smile
I lose myself every once in a while
Is it something in you or something in me
That helps me escape reality

When you hear yourself this song
I hope it brings yourself a smile
The times we had we thought would last forever
But forever only lasts a little while

Every time I see ya smile
I lose myself every once in a while
Is it something in you or something in me
That helps me escape reality
