Here we are two fallen stars
Both a bit more weathered than we think we are
And there we go letting show
All of the innocence that we hold
And there I said it I did it again
We both knew we couldn't pretend
And giving in is giving up
And asking for help is desperate

But maybe there's something, someone, somewhere
Maybe there's someone that can see
Maybe there's something, someone, somewhere
Who will understand and see how it's bleeding me

When I fell you weren't there
Where I walked you didn't care
So tell me why I can not deny
Your image in my mind
Give me your God and give me your trust
Without your faith things don't mean much
And I'm chipping away everyday
Trying to find the will to find the way

But maybe there's something, someone, somewhere
Maybe there's someone that can see
Maybe there's something, someone, somewhere
Who will understand and see how it's bleeding me

Bleeding me
Bleeding me
Bleeding me
Bleeding me

I don't mind
It's quite alright
I don't care what you say
I like it that way

But maybe there's something, someone, somewhere
Maybe there's someone that can see
Maybe there's something, someone, somewhere

Who will understand and see how it's bleeding me

Bleeding me

Bleeding me

Bleeding me

Bleeding me

I don't mind

It's quite alright

I don't care what you say

I like it that way
