Oh I remember back in -91, feeling good, jumping on my bed
I had my favourite record on, my brother came into my room and said:
"Well if this is really music, I wouldn't want it in my world.
If this is really music, this is music for girls."

So back in town in -95, filling in for a drunken DJ
I tried to keep the floor alive, but all the boys at the bar would say:
"Well if this is really music, I wouldn't want it in my world.
If this is really music, this is music for girls."

And it's everything to me, feels like I'm fighting for something Keep your bittersweet symphonies, I'll break your legs if you stop me dancing

And when I met this girl she moved me like no other girl had grooved me
It was something in the way she twists to all the latest tunes
When she took me back to her parents place and I whipped the glitter from her face Oh, I was swooning in her teenage bedroom

So this is the beginning, yeah this is the one
This is your life, this looks like it's gonna be fun
This is the most important feeling in the world
Yeah, this is the good stuff, this is music for girls

Baby we're the stars tonight, we're shining down on everything
I think it's gonna be alright, we'll last forever if we keep on dancing

But now it feels like I'm losing her, nowadays she doesn't seem so keen Is it cause I'm always rushing around, is it cause I'm always playing on my drum machine?

"Well if this is really music..."

Oh, why don't you want me in your world?

"Well if this is really music..."

This is music for girls

Oh everything has all gone wrong, feels like I'm singing the blues

I'll write a million modern pop songs, but from now on, this is music for you

And only for you, this is music for you

Oh I don't care about anyone else, please, don't go!
