The walls have got me soaked up into their scheme in the back, burning black, I'm locked in In a melt, talking to myself not one knows what I'm seeing a mad gush at a high rate of speed

In my mind's night crawls some secret enemy a hexed-up animal stalking my sleep the ghost of your sighs shining out my eyes like steam blood pushes skin, I'm a machine

I'm a go go gone...
Its some atomic energy

Blown like smoke into you

On your isle dear misery hold me can I linger in this hard wired head come on lake of fire, you wanna pain me out but I'm a holy river made of buck-shot sweat

Heat of the moon, come burn with your laughing eye (I had to take the hit, so I can't say shit) every dime you don't drop wanna make me lonely but I got a friend when I need a little shake

I'm a go go gone..
Misfired, hot-wired til I'm in another country where they work the land

I'm blown like smoke into you

Shiny piece of pie I wanna take a bite of Let me eat you like a poor man's bread Throw me a bone, god I need a little light up Drag on you like a fine Cohiba
