True love exists yes I know this
My heart was waiting for you
And when we met I felt my chest
Pound fast, racing for the chance

To know you, to hold you
To open up and show you
The way it feels when you know

You are not alone
Know that I would fight the tides to be together
When you feel alone
Listen to this song to make your heart feel better

Two hearts entwined, yes you are mine
And I'll be your's forever
I've done the math, I'm less than half
We're better off together

And I want you here by my side
As much as you are on my mind
When I'm gone you should know

You are not alone
Know that I would fight the tides to be together
When you feel alone
Listen to this song to make your heart feel better

Rainy Mondays feel like Fridays
When you're smiling at me I can feel
The space between us collapsing
Our love is everlasting

You are not alone
Know that I would fight the tides to be together
When you feel alone
Listen to this song to make your heart feel better

Listen to this song
Let it make your heart feel better
Listen to this song
Let it make your heart feel better

Let it make your heart feel better
