In His love, there's a place where you can always hide
away
In His love, there's no need to run, no need to be afraid.
If the world's a sea of trouble, you can always rise above
If you know that you are safely, In His love.

In His love, where all pain and sorrow quickly fade
In His love, there's a bright tomorrow just beyond today
If your heart is filled with sorrow, if it's all you can think of
Still there'll be a new tomorrow, In His love

Chorus
His love is never far away, yet sometimes hard to see If we would take the time to pray,
His love would flow through you and me

In His love, there's a place where you can watch the world go by
In His love, there's no need to hurry, everything's on time
When the world's a sea of trouble, you can always rise
If you know that you are safely, In His love

In His love, there's a place where you can always hide
In His love, there's no need to run, no need to be afraid.
If your heart is filled with sorrow, if it's all you can think
Still there'll be a new tomorrow, In His love
