Must be tiring to meet my resistance
My stubborn will can be so twisted
Pride can steal the best from me but it's not what I want
But You're what I need so I surrender

I want You to take over me
I want You to take over me
I don't wanna be part of the resistance
I wanna be part of the release
So I want You to take over me

Oh, I can't survive a state of existence
Struggling to find what's missing
I wanna win the war between these skin and bones
And what's underneath so I surrender, yeah, I surrender

I want You to take over me
I want You to take over me
I don't wanna be part of the resistance
I wanna be part of the release
So I want You to take over me, yeah

Never want to, never wanna be against You
I never meant to, never meant to resist You
I never want to, never wanna be against You, against
You
Oh, how could I resist You?

So I want You to take over me
I want You to take over me
I don't wanna be part of the resistance
I wanna be part of the release
So I want You to take over me, yeah
