And there are new horizons with colors that I've never seen
The sky is filled with graces, since You have carried me I felt so far beyond Your reach, but You gave everything for me
I was lost but then You rescued my life

Why in the world did You come after me?
Thank You, thank You
Words aren't enough, but for now I can say
Thank You, thank You

And there is hope rising 'cause You have strength, I've never seen
And I see Your eyes are shining, 'cause You shed tears for me
I was miles from dry land, but You gave everything You had
And I can't understand a love of this kind

Why in the world did You come after me?
Thank You, thank You
Words aren't enough, but for now I can say
Thank You, thank You

And I could find other lines that You haven't heard spoken
Over and over again
And I've tried every way, but I keep landing on that simple phrase
So I'll keep singing, ?Thank You, thank You, thank You?

Why in the world did You come after me?
Thank You, thank You
Words aren't enough, but for now I can say
Thank You, thank You
