My eyes wept over the separation
Take me to the land of Jihad and bid me farewell

I remembered Jihad so my tears overflowed and my eye awoke although it was subdued by humiliation

I love the battle, but its mountains have tumbled
I love the places of combat.
"Desist from me" I speak to my soul; deprive of its desires
I train it upon penetrating death.

For every love other than Allah is a mirage, indeed from madness
May Allah curse the abstention from Jihad and whoever takes to its path
And also to every disappointing wretched betrayer

So o Lord of all slaves, O my Lord
Save me from meeting death while I am upon fragranced bedspreads
But instead I ask You, to be killed beneath the fortresses

And I am certain that the people will think my request to You is from madness
So apologies and excuse me! for I am one who loves jihad so free me
So apologies and excuse me! For I am one who loves jihad, so free me
