Simplicity, I am aware of the beauty
Predictability is a little boring
So tease me, strain my brain
Confuse me to find out what means

A place I thought I'd never find, a treasure that's disguised
As a poison arrow sticking out my side
Only to later realise, the decision here was mine
To enter rapture, dumb, deaf and blind

Listen carefully to my story
'Cause it's my turn to speak about my circuitry
Confusing what's in my brain
Challenging to find out what it means

A place I thought I'd never find, a treasure that's
disguised
As a poison arrow sticking out my side
Only to later realise the decision here was mine
To enter rapture, dumb, deaf and blind

A place I thought I'd never find, a treasure that's
disguised
As a poison arrow sticking out my side
Only to later realise the decision here was mine
To enter rapture, dumb, deaf and blind
To enter rapture, dumb, deaf and blind
