Get inside my head, figure me out
Set your tools upon what is revealed
Tweak it how you want it, and I won't be your puppet
With the plan set in place under the surface

No one realised we've run out of time, what a surprise
The coin got stuck with no reward, yet another
Twisted truth and distorted view, of my image of you
The voice in my head said I made the right move
Made the right move

Write the message down, read it out loud
You scrapped your ink from the bottom of my soul
Dipped your quill into my heart and then you made your mark
Engraved a memory, hidden subconsciously

No one realised we've run out of time, what a surprise
The coin got stuck with no reward, yet another
Twisted truth and distorted view, of my image of you
The voice in my head said I made the right move
Made the right move

No one realised we've run out of time, what a surprise
The coin got stuck with no reward, yet another
Twisted truth and distorted view, of my image of you
The voice in my head said I made the right move
Oh I made the right move
