I feel you, too little think too much
I feel you, too little think too much
I feel you, too little think too much
I feel you, too little think too much

Late last night,
If only you would be alright
You lie, when I tell you
The light, light, light, don't tell I'm sober
If I try, try, try, try
Might just as well, well,
Give it up, up, up, up
And not let you down, down, down
But I won't cause I can't go, no, no, no
Then I know

I feel you, too little think too much
I feel you, too little think too much
I feel you, too little think too much
I feel you, too little think too much

I feel you, too little think too much
I feel you, too little think too much
I feel you, too little think too much
I feel you, too little think too much.
