out of the storm in a dark night

i finally woke up from the dream,

you lead me into your charms-world

that keeps us two together.

Instants for the eternity

full of love and security

only with you I want to be lucky

you are never quite alone.

Only the truth counts,

for us in this world.

Your honesty is, which me pleases.

Each instant, with you is charms,

because I feel imprisoned and nevertheless free.

With full of passion through day and night,

you have brought the warmth into my heart.

Your love robs me my Understanding

my confidence is in your hand.

You give me hope for the eternity,

and free me from the isolation.

Your eyes reflect me the luck,

because drive me totally crazy.

Only the truth counts,

for us in this world.

Your honesty is, which me pleases.

Each instant, with you is charms,

because I feel imprisoned and nevertheless free.

Our dreams become finally true,

because the time was so wonderful.

Your love give me courage and strength,

There is nothing then you won't be able to do.

Only the truth counts,

for us in this world.

Your honesty is, which me pleases.

Each instant, with you is charms,

because I feel imprisoned and nevertheless free
