"Destroy"

You're out of time, out of line
And you're out of options
With the presence of mind to escape
But you wait
Time after time you've delayed your fate

You want to live, want to live
So just do it
You know you have to be the one to get to it
But without mistakes theres no brakes to slow you down

I would like to destroy what you take from me
Its hard to repeat what you say to me
Its hard to repeat what you're like when you lie
I would sure like to destroy what you take from me
Its hard to repeat what you say to me
Its hard to repeat what you're like when you lie, lie...

Go out and play, plan to make some noise
Go out on your own way
You think you've found your home (I didnt think so) (x3)

You should just leave because
I would like to destroy what you take from me
its hard to repeat what you say to me
Its hard to repeat what you're like when you lie
I would sure like to destroy what you take from me
Its hard to repeat what you say to me
Its hard to repeat what you're like when you lie, lie
