In my dreams i see your face and you're smiling
We've got plenty of time
But it seems there is no space i'm always trying
To find new mountains to climb

Don't think that i'm complaining
But sometimes i feel so small
And i know, i can't have it all
I can't have it all

In my life there've been so many faces
I wonder where they are now
Oh i've tried to see all the changes
But i didn't know how

And now, now they're only strangers
I'm surrounded by a wall
And i know i can't have it all
I can't have it all

Why do i sing the songs i'm singing
What am i trying to say
I fear the crowd
Is it love is it hate when they shout

Oh i know i can't have it all
I just can't have it all oh
I can't have it all

I just can't have it all
