VERSE 1

requesting consent to use all these limbs to embrace whatever's left of december reworking the script to make a point when these eyes begin to witness murder

CHORUS

i'd take to the air
if i could i would share
lies in a photograph

VERSE 2

i'm counting the cost, acting selfless no doubt to unite altogether the worth of december recollecting the terms, the pictures and dates understand when eternity's over combining the facts i review all the tapes a little numb to feel older try cascading the words to unravel the truth

[chorus]

i'd like to play fair
knives and a killing smile

don't believe, everything everything you feel

everything you see
