Doubt has never proven anything,
and redemption will never come if the question lives.
Hesitation will keep you away,
hesitation will keep you away.

I am finally free from the burden that was slowly
drowning me.
How long until you reach the hand that rescued me.
You're going under, you're going under.

There's uncertainty with every choice,
but faith and fear are mutually exclusive.
His assurance will bring out confidence,
and that confidence will bring you home.

I am finally free from the burden that was slowly
drowning me.
How long until you reach the hand that rescued me.
You're going under, you're going under.

I am finally free from the burden that was slowly
drowning me.

Break free! Look up! Reach out! Hold on tight!

I am finally free from the burden that was slowly
drowning me.
How long until you reach the hand that rescued me.
You're going under, you're going under.

I am finally free from the burden that was slowly
drowning me.
How long until you reach the hand that rescued me.
You're going under, you're going under,
you're going under, you're going under.
