They bought me some crown, tequila, and Jack,
And I've been drinking cold beer by the 12 pack, Please excuse me if I'm getting kinda loose,
If you really wanna know I'll tell ya the truth..

I don't like to drink too much, I just hang out with people that do,
And every time I'm with my friends, they always buy me
a few,
You know, I don't like to drink too much, it just goes down so damn smooth
I stop thinking when we start drinking, that's just what the hell we do

I was born in Big Spring Texas, I was raised on truth and faith,
But I got in my share of trouble you know I don't profess to be a saint.
And through the years I've collected myself a bunch of good friends that got my back But every time I go out with them, I don't know where I'll wake up at.

You know, I don't like to drink too much I just hang out with people that do,
And every time I'm with my friends, they always buy me
a few,
You know, I don't like to drink too much, it just goes
down so damn smooth
Well I stop thinking when we start drinking, that's just what the hell we do

Well bars are trouble, and parties are double and at a bonfire I'll get lit Don't get me started, about a 12 pack in, you know I won't give a shit.
Down here in Texas, we roll em right, and we're always willing to share,
So if my boys from Oklahoma ever run dry, you know they're always welcome here.

You know, I don't like to drink too much I just hang
out with people that do,
And every time I'm with my friends, they always buy me
a few,
You know, I don't like to drink too much, it just goes
down so damn smooth
I stop thinking when we start drinking, that's just what
the hell we do

Well I remember my very first beer, I was hanging out with my dad,
He let me try his cold Bud Light, I said man that's where it's at,
I've had myself a bunch of hangovers,
and I've been passed out on a lot of floors, But I've slowly learned the best cure for that, is just to wake up and drink some more.

You know, I don't like to drink too much I just hang
out with people that do,
And every time I'm with my friends, they always buy me
a few,
You know, I don't like to drink too much, it just goes
down so damn smooth
Well I stop thinking when we start drinking,
that's just what the hell we do
