Life life life life is just a question
He he he he he runs to me and
I i i i turn to him
And he he he he he says to me

Report your instincts to the station
This sixth sense of yours is on fire
Your desire to insult the situation
Can be controlled if you'd just let it go

What the hell is he saying should I return to the good book
Am I too defensive is he always right

Because life life life life is just a question
She she she she she runs to me and
I i i i turn to her
And she she she she she says to me

Fill the vases up with flowers
Fill the faces up with laughter
Fill your heart up with echoes fill your mind up with Nothing
And

I have to scribble quickly she talks so fast so full of life
There she goes around the corner into another dimension and

I scratch my head I waste time thinking about scratching my head
And I wonder
Do we really hold all power here inside
I jump for joy at the thought I jump off cliffs and into Fields of love

La da da daa da da daaa
La da da daa doda da dooo da daaa
La do da daa da da daaa
La da da do doda da dooo da daaa

She knocks me over mid thought
My elbow's scratched he is holding her stare
She is smiling he is toothless
Together they are a potent pair
I kick the can we run separate through the trees
I remember
Once I was naked and I blame it on adam and eve

Life life life life is just a question
He he he he he runs to me and
I i i i turn to her
And she she she she she says

Life life life life is just a question
He he he he he runs to me and
I i i i turn to him
And she she she she she says

Ohh oh oh
Ohh oh oh
Life life life life
Life life life life
