"Dead Carousel"

Welcome to midnight hour, where deamons trap the livin'
Out of the night they come and with no mercy at all Can't cry for help, for light, the fight is coming nearer
We don't know what they are between angels and dust

Dead carousel, can you bring the light back, the light I will see
Dead carousel, you're the one I dreamed of when it grows darker

The silence brings the sin, the sanity is fading
You hear the children sing, a scary shadow leads you Through fog of distress an fear, straight to this world of temptation
Realize, all hope is gone, no pleasure can be found

Can you forgive, can you forgive
I think on my own, I'll be alright
I reinvent my sins become undone
You can't regret what's already gone

Dead carousel, can you bring the light back, the light I
will see
Dead carousel, you're the one I dreamed of when it
grows darker

Come closer to me, I can feel your breath Come closer to me, show yourself
Come closer to me, can you read my mind
Come closer to me, leave the light behind
