It's always such a great surprise
To wake up to your disguise
You pretend you're just like us
But you're my peace of mind

You can take the mood I'm in
And turn it into something that's alright
Oh, it's alright

Things can't get much better
You might have to stay
To make sure I never
Forget about today

You might have to stay
You might have to stay

I don't really want to know
How this story will unfold
I can only hope you'll wait until it's told
I'll go out and find my way
And you can do the same

But I need all, all of you
I can be alone
But only when I'm holding you

Things can't get much better
You might have to stay
To make sure I never
Forget about today

You might have to stay
You might have to stay

We're already there
The only ones here

Things can't get much better
You might have to stay
To make sure I never
Forget about today

Things can?t get much better
You might have to stay
To make sure I never
Forget about today

You might have to stay
You might have to stay
You might have to stay
You might have to stay
