I-I've been a wonder girl under the gun
And like you I was a runner with nowhere to run
But my freedom is a mother and right now she's back
To stay for a while
I-I've had enough of me playing the fool
Oh I see the smile you're faking
And I'm breaking ground every day now
And you should know
If you're making my love a commodity
I'm afraid that you might have mistaken me
Now the ocean's burning
But I will sooth the flame
I-I got a message from over the moon
Now I know I got the fire to conquer the gloom
I am young and I am burning
