As sweet polly oliver lay musing in bed,
A sudden strange fancy came into her head.
Nor father nor mother shall make me false prove,
Ill list as a soldier, and follow my love.

So early next morning she softly arose,
And dressed herself up in her dead brothers clothes.
She cut her hair close, and she stained her face brown,
And went for a soldier to fair london town.

Then up spoke the sergeant one day at his drill,
Now whos good for nursing? a captain, hes ill.
Im ready, said polly. to nurse him shes gone,
And finds its her true love all wasted and wan.

The first week the docter kept shaking his head,
No nursing, young fellow, can save him, he said.
But when polly oliver had nursed him back to life
He cried, you have cherished him as if you were his wife.

O then polly oliver, whe burst into tears
And told the good doctor her hopes and her fears,
And very shortly after, for better or for worse,
The captain took joyfully his pretty soldier nurse.
