For a decade I'm on my way home
To reach the place I belong
So much losses and aches
Made me worn out but strong

My thoughts and feelings
Remained on the sea
Only fragments of memories
I'm the forsaken returnee

Oh, after years of straying
After all, I'm coming home
At least I attained my target
Although I'm all alone

I will never be the same
I will never be the same

Oh, after years of straying
After all, I'm coming home
At least I attained my target
Although I'm all alone
I will never be the same

I will never forget the paths we went through
My friends, my mind and my tears
Led me to my final return.
