I couldnt see the sunshine through the shadows
I couldnt seem to find a soul to care
And in my darkest hour
You touch me with your power
And when i looked your light
Was everywhere

Refrain:

The light of the million mornings filled my heart
The sound of a million angels sung my song
The warmth of a love so tender
Touched my life and suddenly
The light of a million morning starts in me

I never tried to understand the sunrise
I know it takes away the dark
I can't explain your healing or all the joy im feeling
I only know you've come in to my heart

(repeat refrain)

Bridge:

And now that your glory
Has come shining through
Let my life be a candle, Lord
That shines for you,
Shines for you
Shines for you...
