I open my eyes, I look to the sky
And claimed my place among the stars
I held on tight and enjoyed the ride
I left all my doubts behind

Now the journey I dreamed of
And all that I wished for has finally come true

Chorus
And now my dream's alive
The world's my stage, I will turn up the lights
Everything is a test of faith
Everything's falling into place
I can see it, I believe it, this is my dream

I remember the times, all the fear inside
When all my dreams seemed out of reach
I held on tight, another day behind
I got through the darkest nights

Now the journey I dreamed of
And all that I wished for has finally come true

And now my dream's alive
The world's my stage, I will turn up the lights
Everything is a test of faith
Everything's falling into place
I can see it, I believe it, this is my dream

Realize to deep down inside
It's a gift we've all been giving
It's what gives us our life

Now my dream's alive
The world's my stage, I will turn up the lights
Everything is a test of faith
Everything's falling into place
I can see it, I believe it, this is my dream

And now my dream's alive
The world's my stage, I will turn up the lights
Everything is a test of faith

Everything's falling into place
I can see it, I believe it, this is my dream

This is my dream...
