Submitter's comments:Â

mv's a little ....outdated by now the lyrics after reading them are about a girl breaking up under the assumption that she can't love him enough and the poor guy is fighting with himself wondering if they were ever really together.
but the lyrics are so meaningful especially this line:

"but i have just one thing to ask -- was it all really for me? is that why you said let's break up and remained within the pain of my inner wounds? so if that's the case, is it okay to believe that we were once in love?"

[quote wrote: ps. this user, theasianmission on Youtube is out there to translate a lot of the korean indie rock/rap music -- aka. Drunken Tiger, Nell, Epik High. Definitely subscribe to him if you like any of the artists listed above. (he doesn't take requests) but he's already subbed Epik High's vol 4. I owe him MY utter gratitude (biggest Epik High Fan Everrr)
