They're counting on a guilty conscience to save you
But I'm bankin' on the deep blue eyes and the face too
They always said, always said, always said you were easy, oh . . .
Oh if I could have just one piece of that I'd be Sold Over. . .

Come over to the sweet ones baby,
and I'll tell you where to go.
I can't see them when they're walking sideways
I don't know,
I don't know.

Come over to my house I'll tend to you solo
("I'll tend to you, I'll tend to you")
So fabulous and well dressed up like a talk show
("So fabulous, so fabulous")
easy
("Oh, always said")
Oh if I could have just one piece of that I'd be sold Over...

Come over to the sweet ones baby,
and I'll tell you where to go.
I can't see them when they're walking sideways
I don't know,
I don't know.

Oh so sad we, love you madly
Want to take you home
Oh so sad we, love you madly
want to take you home.

You know, if I could have just one piece of that I'd be Sold Over. . .

Come over to the sweet ones baby,
and I'll tell you where to go.
I can't see them when they're walking sideways
I don't know,
I don't know-w . . .

A-come over to the sweet ones baby,
("Sweet, sweetie")
And I'll tell you where to go.
("Tell you where to go")
I can't see them when they're walking sideways
I don't know,
I don't know!
