

Matthew Hyland

"Hardly A Man"

Visit "Hardly A Man" on MotoLyrics.com

I took from my pockets
Laid it all on the ground
Tried to share it with someone
But no one was around
See now I was a leper
And she took me right in
Now my future lies in her fragile hands
I hardly a man, But at least I'm trying.
To understand
My brother he spoke
In a tone that's so low
Said it happens so often
How were you meant to know
Don't beat yourself up
You'll find it's right to let go
Take it from me I was the first one to know
I'm hardly a man, but at least I'm trying
To understand
I could be in your room
Or up inside that damn moon
We've got it made

Visit Matthew Hyland page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.