the first time it was unbelievable you broke through where no one's ever been i fell into your belong the first time you saw who i am the day when you loved me for what i am i'll always remember

wherever life will lead us we'll always have each other we'll fight whatever comes to break us down with you i'm much braver
and i see so much clearer whenever you're around the first time i ever felt this strong was in your heart and it's almost too amazing that i am loved by you

you made me find more ways
to love someone
to depend on someone
and i know, wherever i go, my trust's with you

wherever life will lead us we'll always have each other
