i like it here,
right on this spot of your neck
is it here, where beauty comes to rest?, is it where the light was born?
'cause i can see it shining through your eyes

i'll stay here, in the depth of your open heart is it where you gave birth to the butterflies? is it where you found the answer?
'cause there's no questions in your arms

i wish that i could freeze time so i'd be standing here forever touched by your hands
wishing i was brave enough to stay like this forever
holding your hand
but what if you let go,
what if you dont love me
anymore?

i love it here,
'cause i've never been so near
and its here, where you open up my eyes where you help me find myself and i just fell in love with you right now

i wish that i could freeze time
holding your hand

what if you dont love me
anymore?

what if you let go,
what if you dont love me
anymore?
