when i took my first breathe you were there with tears in your eyes, touched by the love of a baby girl with eyes so bright all the games we have played all the pictures i have saved you'll always be a part of me that's how it'll always be do whatever you want to do and say the things you wanna say make me angry of you and make me cry as many times as you wish to but i will always be beside you now and until forever

when i was scared of monsters under my bed, and of ghosts in the dark, you scared them away and held my hand 'til i was OK when you loose yourself in music i'm there to hear you sing-a-long you made me fall in love with rythm you made me write my first song

i will always be your girl now and forever
i'll always be your girl
