"Come Tomorrow"

Visit "Come Tomorrow" on MotoLyrics.com

You say to pack my things and go
But you don't even know the truth
You don't understand what it takes to be a man
You don't realize what's right there in plain sight

It happened again
Here we go float down fast
Inception to end
It's too late
Stones are cast
You don't understand, what it takes to be a man
And you'll find yourself alone come tomorrow

Heroes false, forged from gold
In the end they'll fade away
You don't have what it takes to steer the ship, lead the way
You just squeeze all the life out of those who feed your pride

It's Over
