[Long live free enterprise!]

There comes a time when we must ask ourselves
Whether money or mankind are of better time

There comes a day when we must ask ourselves
If the dollar or our fellow man comes first

Oh human life, we would like to value it
But if there's no profit in it
What's the point?

I'm on the side of mankind as much as the next man
But when it stands in the way of can Then we must ask mankind if it wouldn't mind standing aside

Oh human life, we would like to value it
But if there's no profit in it
What's the point?
