Let's rewind, close your eyes
Let's rewind, close your eyes

Man fighting over land pull a weapon for ,
I wanna lift my hood up, like I'm checking for ore
And with better than the rip headed, the negative
, never get better, my leverage
Or at the palace is, that I could be accounted for because I'm talented
And I'll admit it's challenging, to find a way about of it
Too many captains on a crowded ship
I grew up fast don't know how to live
Try and function when you're , expect the worst
And best fit that cop car and respect the hearse
How long we left on earth, how much practice worth
And in my heaven scent, this revelation's relevant
I'm helping,,bring the truth tonight
I say a prayer hope my family making through the night Moving for a fast slow pause,for your hit play, let's rewind

Let's rewind, take em back in time, take em back in time
I can free my mind, and everything is fine
Let's rewind, take em back in time, take em back in
time
I can free my mind, and everything is fine

Mama, sorry that I made you cry so much
I wish that you could see that I've grown up
And I roll up, I rewind, reminisce
I regret all that life advice that I've miss
And I know all that bullshit that we went through
We were meant to and I was sent to Teach people like you taught, need spread love
,strong, dream big, keep your head up
And I reflect on , home, jail cells and death
Experience and hope is all I got left
I grind the future from the past of the present
I wonder if my presence will outlast my present
I stand behind my circumstances

I'm caught on rewind trying to find my the ,
In the passion and my stances
Feeling danger so I hand out
Way out to the land of, time

Let's rewind, take em back in time, take em back in
time
So you can free your mind, and everything is fine
Let's rewind, take em back in time, take em back in
time
So you can free your mind, and everything is fine.
