"Another Dream"

The rebirth, an endless dreamer
But before his work is done
We will beat the sense of dying
As another dream has come

It's the truth and we admire
Showing endless dreams to you
Against the gates of dark desire
Sometimes our light shines through

In a nightfall of desire
In a world of broken dreams
There's another way of lying
Till another dream relieves

In a dawn of endless break up
Others fading every day
There's a new believe of dreaming
Will you follow anyway

Take my hand and bare your soul
Another dream will take control
There's a chance for you and me
Another dream is here to be

And a pretty nightmare
