they dress you up like a store window mannequin stuff you full of shit, feed you contentment and punk becomes another excuse to be as any corporate puppet of this society, we supposedly divorced ourselves from they sell our fashion x 2 and ignore our soul and our ideals become nothing more than slogans on a t-shirt yeah punk becomes just another teenage rebellion hiding behind the skirts of society 'cause that which it cannot distort it must assimilate take the superficialities x 2 of dress and appearance
