I thought I knew you
but I was wrong
when I see you today
I don't understand how could you change that much it's your life I won't tell you how to live it
but question you
and your ideals
what did you believe in
was it just an attitude you thought was cool back then?
Once you wanted
to change the world
but the world changed you
you won't admit its true you've become what you hated most of all back then
now you've betrayed
all those ideals
that you once believed in or was it just an attitude
you thought was cool back then Now you've become a statistic figure
a number on a list
with no personality
or individuality
just a status climber
with materialistic needs
who soon will be living
