Well I've come this far
And I'm living proof
And I had myself
A severe attack of the truth

Well they brought me up
And they filled my head
But now I know
The things were wrong they said

It does'nt make the world go round
It does'nt make the world come crashing down
Your life can mean something without it

You think you know better
Tell me about it

Cos were all brought up
With our hopes and fears
But most of these are planted
Through out the years

You gotta shut them out
Get some truth
And have the courage to do what's best for you.
