I went through days without knowing
When my eyes grow colder
Hear what you did to me
You always had a quick alibi
Someone with an inline
Now you wanna run back to me

Couldn't know that you were lying
And you do it so gracefully

Save it for the next fool who says he loves you
Save it for someone with a heart to spare
'Cause let's face it, your lies are wasted
On someone like me, yeah

Save it for the next fool who thinks he needs you
Maybe he'll do it better than me
So just save it, oh darling, save it
For the next fool

Those sweet excuses don't amuse me
'Cause I know that you used me
Use me 'till all used up
'Cause now I'm older and I'm wiser
And I don't wanna fight
Just it's that old that I just can't win

'Cause I know that you were lying
And you do it so gracefully

Save it for the next fool who says he loves you
Save it for someone with a heart to spare
'Cause let's face it, your lies are wasted
On someone like me

Save it for the next fool who thinks he needs you
Maybe he'll do it better than me
So let's save it, so darling, save it
For the next fool

For the next fool

Baby, for the next fool
Baby, he'll understand
Why you have to break his heart
All the time

Save it for the next fool who says he loves you
Save it for someone with a heart to spare
'Cause let's face it, your lies are wasted
With someone like me, yeah

Save it for the next fool who thinks he needs you
Maybe he'll do it better than me
So just save it, oh darling, save it
For the next fool, yeah

Gotta save it
Gotta save it
For the next fool

Gotta save it
Gotta save it
For the next fool
