As we wait for the news to break
I lose myself within your embrace
With patience being our only friend
We will fight this thing until the bitter end
But before you go
To be held in your arms for one last time is not enough
I won't close my eyes
I'll miss out on this moment that we'll share forever

This is the sound of angels falling down
I hope you pray for this
This is the sound of angels falling down
I know you'll savor this

With this final kiss
I bid you a goodnight and take my leave so gracefully
This won't be the same
I'll always have your smooth angelic voice to guide me
A gentle whisper I pray to the wind
I hope I make it home again

This is the sound of angels falling down
I hope you pray for this
This is the sound of angels falling down
I know you'll savor this

This is the sound of angels falling down
The sound of angels falling
