6 am wakin' up for somebody else
Expectations and I forget about myself
They don't remember my life belongs to me
Think they know best but what they don't see

I'm going through the motions day after day
My mind is drifting away

Into a dreamland where all my secrets are kept safe
It's so easy to live without making mistakes
All my greatest fears they wash away
I know tomorrow's another day
And I've got all the time in the world to waste

I'm just a wild flower hidden in the haze
Trapped behind a wall of other people's ways
I feel them watching, waiting for me to fall
Pressure's building, how I'm tryin' to prove I'm strong

Going through the motions day after day
My mind is drifting away

Into a dreamland where all my secrets are kept safe
It's so easy to live without making mistakes
All my greatest fears they wash away
I know tomorrow's another day
And I've got all the time in the world to waste

Into a dreamland where all my secrets are kept safe
It's so easy to live without making mistakes
All my greatest fears they wash away
I know tomorrow's another day

Into a dreamland where all my secrets are kept safe
It's so easy to live without making mistakes
All my greatest fears they wash away
I know tomorrow's another day
And I've got all the time in the world to waste

Someday I'll be brave enough to break free
Someday I'll be brave enough to break free

(All the time to waste)
Someday I'll be brave enough to break free
