As she walks through a snow shower
Breaking a path through the ice
She passes a high ice tower
Which penetrates a polar night

But she lacks oxygen
Essential to fire
But her
Her jet-pack glows bright
And she doesn't even feel tired
As she penetrates the polar night

What a mystery of vast complexity
There's something ' goin' on here she don't understand
A downpour of dust-clouds unexpectedly
Appears in the palm of her hand

Everything flows freely
Across a freezing dust-scape (unknown)
It's cool stars
Red and bright with life
Arrive at the end of their colossal lights

She lacks oxygen
Essential to fire
But her
Her jet-pack glows bright
And she doesn't even feel tired
As she penetrates the polar night

What a mystery of vast complexity
There's something ' goin' on here we don't understand
A downpour of dust-clouds unexpectedly
Appears in the palm of her hand

Everything flows freely
Across a freezing dust-scape (unknown)
It's cool stars
Red and bright with life
Arrive at the end of their colossal lights

Other unimagined phenomena
Gets relayed back by radio waves
Up into space towards Andromeda
Leaving behind little trace

She takes hours to view the afterglow
A fierce lunar wind blows
It penetrates (unknown)
And into the polar night
