You're old enough to stand alone
You feel tired, kind of bored
You know you'll make it on your own
You don't need all those folks

You don't mind
Life's just a waste of time
Never mind
You know you're not the last one
To always find
(That) World's just a waiting line
Fake a smile. Get into your part.

You're waiting for the colours to
You're waiting for the colours to come home
You only wait for something new
Something to take you out of this hole

Dreams left you with nowhere to go
It's getting hard to see it all
Is there anybody there to love you so?
In this cold cold winter... Is there anyone for you?

You always have to listen to
You always have to listen to the fools
You always have to know it too
You always have to know the secret rules
