Your touch erased the pain. Freed me from everything.
I ran away, fell into, a darker place without love.
I sit and think of you. My heart is beating to the rhythm
The solace, the memories of our love.

I begged for mercy,
New life beside me.
Trust could save me.
Thank God you saved me.

I feel the energy take over me, and then you saved me
now.
In my darkest hour I'm still standing tall, I can't and will not fall, this Isn't over now.

My life begins to change. With the choices that I've made.
I look ahead to dream and have the memories of our lives!
I've wasted half my life; waiting for you now. Before I hit the ground, will You catch me?

I feel the energy take over me, and then you saved me
now.
In my darkest hour I'm still standing tall, I can't and will not fall, this Isn't over now.

I feel the energy take over me, and then you saved me
now.
In my darkest hour I'm still standing tall, I can't and will not fall, this Isn't over now.

Your touch erased the pain. (I feel the energy take over me) Freed me from everything. (And then you saved me
now)
I ran away, fell into, (In my darkest hour)
A darker place without love. (I'm still standing tall)
I sit and think of you.
My heart is beating to the rhythm (I can't and will not fall)

The solace, the memories of our love. (This isn't over now)

Thank God you saved me
Thank God you saved me
