You were never one for waiting
Still I always thought you'd wait for me
Have you from your dream awakened
And from where you are what do you see
Which of us is now in exile
Which in need of amnesty
Are you now but an illusion
In my mind alone you breathe
You believed in things that I will never know
You were out there drowning but it never showed
Till inside a rain swept night you just let go
You're thrown it all away
And now we'll never see
The ending of the play
The grand design
The final line
And what was meant to be
In the dark a distant runner
Now has disappeared into the night
Leaving us to stand and wonder
Staring from this end into your life
You believed in things that I will never know
You were out there drowning but it never showed
Till inside a rain swept night you just let go
You've thrown it all away
And now we'll never see
The ending of the play
The grand design
The final line
And what was meant to be
And if this is all illusion
Nothing more than pure delusion
Clinging to a fading fantasy
Like Icarus who heeds the calling
Of a sun but now is falling
As the feathers of his life fall free
Can you see
See
Tomorrow
And after
You tell me what am I to do
I stand here

Believing
That in the dark
There is a clue
Perhaps inside
This midnight sky
Perhaps tomorrow's new born eyes
Or then again
We'll never know
And after all
This was the show
What am I to do
Gotta get back
Gotta get back
What am I to do
Gotta get back
