No life so short it can't turn around

You can't spend your life living underground

Far from above you don't hear a sound

And I'm out here - waiting

I don't understand what you want me to be

It's the dark you're hating

It's not who I am, but I know that it's all that you see

No life so short that it never learns

No flame so small that it never burns

No page so sure that it never turns

And I'm out here - waiting

I don't understand what you want me to be

It's the dark you're hating

It's not who I am, but I know that it's all that you see

Can you live your life in a day?

Putting every moment in play?

Never hear a word that they say as the wheels go around?

Tell me if you win would it show?

In a thousand years who would know?

As a million lives come and go on the same piece of ground

IÃ, 've been waiting
I donÃ, 't understand what you want me to be ItÃ, 's the dark youÃ, 're hating
ItÃ, 's not who I am, but it is what you see Tell me would you really want to See me leave this night without you?
DonÃ, 't you ever look about you?
Wandering where we might be
New York is so far away now
Tokio, Berlin and Moscow
Only dreams from here, but somehow
One day that world we will see
I donÃ, 't understand ( 8x )
I swear on tomorrow if you take this chance
Our lifes are this moment, the music, the dance
And here in this labyrinth of lost mysteries
I close my eyes on this night
And youÃ, 're all that I see
YouÃ, 're all that I see
