Gather around
And let me tell a story
Of a little kid
Young but kinda worried
He was growing up
And his path was blurry
He needed to find some help in a hurry
He hated everything
Coz he couldn't find
Anything in this world
He needed a sign
Someone showed him something
That blew his mind
That's when he found his kind

The story never end
It starts over again
The story never ends

He came up young

Looking the right way
He considered everyone in this the same
He decided one day
That this is my day
"I'm gonna try and get my shit straight!"
He did his thing
Helped his people out
But after a while
He started having some doubt
Then he met this kid
You know this little guy
He could see in those eyes
What almost died

The story never end
It starts over again
The story never ends
